

SARAH KRAUZE

RESEARCH ASSOCIATE

PROFILE

Sarah is a Research Associate at Healthwatch Essex and Community Fellow of the School of Health and Social Care at the University of Essex. She studied Psychology at the University of Plymouth and prior to joining Healthwatch Essex worked as a Research Assistant for Peninsula College of Medicine and Dentistry. She has gained expertise through involvement in many of our research projects and advises other members of the team on surveys. She is responsible for contributing to the undertaking of specific research projects; from designing the methodologies, project planning, data collection, data analysis and report writing. Sarah has also worked on local evaluation projects, commissioned by Rainbow Services and Voluntary Action Epping Forest. Currently, Sarah is working on a project looking at men's experiences of mental health and suicidal behaviour.

RESEARCH INTERESTS

Mental health

Children and families

Qualitative research methods

Survey design and analysis

PUBLICATIONS AND RESEARCH PROFILE

- Day, J. & Krauze, S. (2021). Living with Obesity: Men's experiences of losing and gaining weight and the implications for policy and services. Earls Colne: Healthwatch Essex.
- Haines, S. (2018) An evaluation of Rainbow Services community builder project: The Senior Safe and Social Programme. Feering: Essex.
- Haines, S., Corrigan, O., and Georgiadis, A. (2017). A Citizen Engagement Study on the Proposed STP Reconfiguration of Urgent and Emergency Care in Mid and South Essex. Feering: Healthwatch Essex.
- Haines, S., and Wetton, Y. (2016). Carer's Assessments in Essex: what do carers say? Feering: Healthwatch Essex.
- Corrigan, O., McGuinness, N., Nutt, T., Hallowell, N., Wood, D., and Haines, S. (2014). Cancer Services in Colchester: A Study of Patient & Carer Experience. Feering: Healthwatch Essex.